· () may my heart in tune be found Like David's herp of solemn sound, Is one of Watts' most grand hymns-but ad morant chorister once suggested to his pastor that he would "improve" if thus:

"O may my heart be tuned within Like David's sacred violin!" But the pastor proposed to "amend the amendment," thus: "O may my heart go diddle diddle Like uncle David's great big fiddle!"

The chorister hereupon suggested that it might perhaps better remain una tered!

This anecdote reminds us of the little boy who was taken to a church in which was un "organ." Now it happened that the little chap had never heard an organ except in connection with music murdering afreet-grinding vagabonds and monkeys. As soon as the organ commenced, the boy started up with delight; he looked back to the gallery; he stretched his neck; he go up on the cushions, and raised himself to his very tallest. His mother beckoned himto be still, but he continued to gaze aloft, with straining eyes, "Sit down!" com manded his mother. "O ma!" he crued. so loud as to be heard by all around, " I WART TO SEE PICK MONKEY!"
